father, I want those you have given me to be with me where I am, and to see my glory, the glory you have given me because you loved me before the creation of the world.

To our Biola Community & Friends,

We hold fast to the truth that God has called you to this time in history, to this place, for such a time as this. His Spirit is still causing thousands of knees to bow at the proclamation of Jesus Christ as Lord and He has invited you into this incredible journey. As the directors of this conference, we are building upon a legacy that has existed for the past 84 years, urging students to go and make disciples of all nations. We are putting on this conference in the midst of a new era of missions. The cry is getting louder for all to respond to the supremacy of Christ and His magnificent glory.

The theme of this year is Outpour. Drawing from Exodus 33, John 17 and 2 Corinthians 3, our desire is that you will walk away from this conference knowing that God has fully revealed His glory through His Son, Jesus Christ.

We hope you leave Missions Conference 2013 with a heart that recognizes the importance of activating the church to go out proclaim the truth of Christ to the lost with boldness. Christ, in all his glory, demands a response worth everything.

We also hope to annihilate any thought that, if you are not called to church planting or living overseas, you are not called to missions. Our hope is for you to recognize that your specific gifts are from God — and the best way you can use these gifts is to advance his Kingdom. Every field and major, from anthropology to business, can be lived out missionally. Like rushing rivers pouring out from the highest of mountain peaks, we hope you will recognize the power of the Spirit and the freedom it offers so you can flood the depths of the earth with the proclamation of the New Covenant, which is revealed perfectly in the glorified Christ.

Christ’s final call remains — go out and make disciples of all nations. Will you respond?

For His Fame in the Nations,

Rebekah Davis & Keaton Tyndall
Friends at Biola,

What does revival look like? What does it sound like?

Hebrews 1:1-3a says, “Long ago, at many times and in many ways, God spoke to our fathers by the prophets, but in these last days he has spoken to us by his Son, whom he appointed the heir of all things, through whom also he created the world. He is the radiance of the glory of God and the exact imprint of his nature, and he upholds the universe by the word of his power.”

During last fall’s Torrey Conference, Pastor Mark Batterson noted that revival starts within each of us. And no matter which aspect of revival we look at, we know it is not by ourselves nor by our own power that it is brought about. If we seek revival, we know to look to Jesus and walk in the power of his Holy Spirit.

This year, as we engage with many incredible speakers and join together in worship — seeking revival in our own hearts and in the hearts of individuals in every other nation — let us remember to “set our minds on things above.” For it is only God who brings about growth.

No two of us will come to the conference in exactly the same way or season. Dare we worship Him anyways? Dare we love and choose to believe in the truth of his love anyways? Dare we choose to let our defenses down, becoming humble and contrite in light of his glory?

Let us dare. Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the Author and Perfecter of our faith. Yes! Let us outpour.

“A glance at Christ will save, but it is the gazing at Christ that sanctifies.” ~Robert Murray McCheyne Revive us, Lord Jesus, for Your glory.

Stephen Croft
SMU President 2012-2013
The theme of this year’s Missions Conference is “Outpour.” As you attend sessions, visit the mission organization tables on Metzger Lawn and participate in conference activities all over campus this week, I challenge you to make the most of the experience. Consider these three days off from class to be a Sabbath – a time to meet your Lord and bask in his glory. Ask him to reveal his glory to you this week, and expect that he will.

God’s desire is for his glory, and God’s glory should be our desire as well. When God asked Moses to lead the people out of Egypt, Moses asked for reassurance that God’s presence would go with them in their exodus. Moses asked to see God’s glory, and God answered that prayer. God is ready, willing, zealous to show us his glory. But are we equally zealous to see it?

In John 17, God shows us his glory in another very literal way. As Jesus prays for his disciples and for us – those who will believe in him as a result of the disciples’ work – Jesus utters the shocking words, “I have given them the glory that you gave me … so that they may be brought to complete unity.

The world will know that you sent me and have loved them even as you have loved me.” Again God’s desire is for his glory. This time, he shares it with us so that we might model his glory to the world, and in so doing bring others to the knowledge of such glory.

There’s no getting around it. The point of it all is the glory of God. But this isn’t meant to be a burden or chore. We miss the point if that’s all it is to us. God’s glory should be the motivation for everything we say and do. It’s the reason we are here. In seeing God’s glory, sharing in it and reflecting it to the world, we are fulfilled.

Our prayer is that in these days of our 84th Missions Conference, there would be an outpouring of God’s glory — an outpouring that would fill us and animate us and spread outward from this place to the ends of the earth. Let the whole earth be filled with his glory.

for in him all things were created: things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or powers or rulers or authorities; all things have been created through him and for him. He is before all things, and in him all things hold together.

therefore, since we have such a hope, we are very bold...and we all, who with unveiled faces contemplate the Lord’s glory, are being transformed into his image with ever-increasing glory, which comes from the Lord, who is the Spirit.

The Global Awareness staff has transformed several classrooms to reflect both the hurt experienced in different cultures and the hope of God as he moves through them.

We have three goals for GA this year:

* Educate.
We hope to educate Biola’s campus about the cultures represented. Take advantage of the QR codes along the paths as you wait in line. They will take you to several articles, blogs and videos.

* Encourage.
The Room Leaders have been molding their rooms into a place where the audience will see both the need for Christ among these cultures and how God is working in them. We want to encourage Biola’s campus to see that Christ’s righteousness poured out for us is what enables us in missions.

* Empower.
We are calling Biola to actively cry out to God for these cultures, as well as for Biola’s campus and the summer short term missions trips. We have compiled information on how students can get involved with on-campus, local and overseas ministries.
Cambodia
Just over 30 years ago, genocide devastated the country of Cambodia, taking innocent lives and killing those who attempted to speak out against the violence. Years later, the country is still struggling to survive as it fights against poverty, human trafficking, and an unfair government.

Haiti
The people of Haiti are not only still struggling with the remnant of the earthquake—they are also oppressed by voodoo culture and its religious lifestyle, which caused them to remain in poverty and hopelessness. These demonic practices, compounded by the travesty of the 2010 earthquake, has left them searching for a beacon of hope.

Tijuana (Mexico)
Drug traffickers do not just harm the people they sell drugs to. They also harm their children, who are almost always dragged into the business or affected by the constant threat of losing their parents or their own lives.

Native American Culture
In a culture so negatively affected by “missions” in the past, Christianity is seen as a white man’s religion. How do we go about doing “missions” without losing our cultural identity and how do we, as Christians, bring hope to a hopeless environment?

Deaf Culture
The Deaf community in the U.S. is often excluded from popular American culture through communication barriers and misconceptions of deafness, allowing them to fall through the cracks of society. As a result, the Deaf have developed a vibrant and distinct culture that has created a fiercely loyal community. But it has also created another barrier between them and the Gospel.

Bangladesh
In recent years, Bangladesh has been heavily affected by poverty, which forces low-income families to perform jobs that society would normally frown upon. Young girls are well aware that, when they grow up, their bodies will be sold for sex in order to survive.

The Prayer & Worship department will call the attention of Biola University to the importance of prayer, especially in the context of world missions. We seek to do this through several events around campus that are designed to foster a community that engages in authentic intercession for those who have yet to hear the Gospel. In addition to communal opportunities for fellowship and prayer, we seek to encourage each person to approach the throne humbly and honestly, presenting themselves as they are so they might experience the fullness of God’s grace.

Our prayer is that the student body would desire to communicate with God, learn how to discern his voice and respond to his call accordingly. Our desire is to foster an environment where one can worship God because of his eternal goodness, regardless of their current circumstance. Acts 4:29-31, Romans 8:26 & Matthew 6:5-7

Prayer Stations

Our vision is for students to have a place to process what God is stirring in their hearts and have raw, authentic experiences with God. Come as you are. Cry out to God in all seasons. Look for tents on the lawns of Rose, Crowell, and Hope. Bring your hopes, confusion, joy, pain, and fears — God is not intimidated by them. Psalm 61. We also have an area in the Talbot Garden to pray over Biola students’ majors. Romans 12:6-8. Pray for direction and vision for yourselves and fellow students. As each has received a gift, use it to serve one another as good stewards of God’s varied grace. 1 Peter 4:10
Prayer Labyrinth
The Prayer Labyrinth will take you through a journey that is modeled after the Great Commission — starting near and moving outward. You begin with an introspective reflection and move on to prayer for your family and leaders — which leads to a worldwide outpour. This time of silent prayer will allow you to take a step back from the hustle and bustle of Missions Conference and quietly encounter God.

The Prayer Labyrinth is located in lower ROLO and is open from 8am to 10pm.

Encountering God
This experience offers a time to engage with the Holy Spirit through the Word at 8:00 am in dorm lobbies and at Fluor Fountain for OCC students. Space will be set aside for you each morning to intentionally communicate with and hear from the Lord. O God, you are my God, earnestly I seek you; my soul thirsts for you, my flesh faints for you, as in a dry and weary land where there is no water. Psalm 63:1

Prayer Networkers
Our Prayer Networkers seek to intercede in prayer on your behalf. Our goal is to set up an environment in which you can better connect with God. We are also here for you individually as you need prayer during the conference. You can find us throughout the conference by our designated nametags.

24-Hour Prayer Room
We believe the Lord wants us to constantly seek and pursue him. During Missions Conference, students are invited to use this space to seek the Lord’s face through constant prayer and worship.

Students are invited to pray freely and seek the Lord’s face through intercession, confession, remembrance and blessing. Worship will be led for the entire length of the conference.

The Student Union Building has been set apart as a space for anyone to pray, reflect and rest in the presence of the Lord.
Timothy Liu
Timothy Liu works as a regional sales manager for a US engineering company and oversees business in Asia — his primary place of calling and ministry. He holds a B.S. in Electrical Engineering and a Master of Business Administration.

Timothy is the founder of Marketplace Christian Network, a ministry that equips Christian professionals to see themselves as full-time ministers in the marketplace and adopt their workplace as their missions field. He has served as president of the Graduates’ Christian Fellowship Singapore Council since 2007, which consists of several professional fellowships (medical, legal, teachers, science and engineering, counselors & psychologists, business), and encourages them to be salt and light — serving students, the church and society.

Timothy is also Senior Associate of the Lausanne Committee for World Evangelization — teaching, networking and equipping new strategies for Christians to live out the Gospel in an everyday context. He is on the Board of the Biblical Graduate School of Theology in Singapore, which serves to equip lay leaders and pastors alike to develop an integrated biblical worldview for effective service in the church and the marketplace. At his local congregation, he is a worship leader, musician and care-group leader.
Erik Thoennes
Assistant Professor of Biblical and Systematic Theology

Erik Thoennes is committed to teaching theology so that he and his students love God and people more fully. He strives to make the necessary connections between the biblically based study of theology, obedience to Jesus, and fulfilling the Great Commission. He has taught theology and evangelism at Wheaton College and Trinity Evangelical Divinity School and is a frequent guest speaker at churches, conferences, and retreats. His research interests include godly jealousy, the atonement, religious pluralism, and theology of culture.

Erik edited and wrote the introduction for a republication of “Light on the Way” by J. Wilbur Chapman, contributed study notes and introductions for various chapters of “The Inspirational Study Bible” [Tyndale House], and has written several articles in “Equipping Evangelists,” published by Billy Graham Center’s Institute of Evangelism. He is also a regular presenter at meetings of the Evangelical Theological Society.

Erik played professional football in Europe, worked with developmentally disabled adults, and has been actively involved in pastoral ministry in the local church. Erik and his wife Donna, who teaches part time at Biola and is completing her Ph.D. in Christian Education, have ministered alongside college students for most of their 11-year marriage.
Pam Sardar
She began her career as a high school drama director, but God had a different idea for Pam’s vocation and life. Hearing His call, Pam took a bold step of faith with a tentative spirit, to marry a man she had not met and move to a country she barely knew. The rest of her story has been the ride of a lifetime and one she recommends highly. Pam loves to encourage people to step out of the boat and up into the ‘more’ that God has waiting.

The more that waited for Pam included being married to an Indian national (Sunil Sardar) who is called to lead a social/spiritual movement to abolish and dismantle the caste system. In addition, Pam and Sunil are called to minister specifically to the lower caste community, bringing the Gospel to them with cultural relevance which helps them understand, in a world of gods and goddesses, who this Jesus really is.

Since 1990, Pam has delivered four children, lived 10 years in a village (three years without running water), been kicked out of India twice, been blacklisted by the government, and after five years of wrestling with her visa issues, has recently returned to the land of her heart.

Pam also has a passion for music, theatre, reading, writing, and being surrounded by friends and family!

Jimmy Seibert

Jimmy Seibert is the Senior Leader of Antioch Community Church in Waco, Texas, and the founder and president of Antioch Ministries International (AMI).

The emphasis of Jimmy’s ministry is raising up passionate people to fulfill God’s purposes in the earth, based on the simple value of knowing Jesus and making Him known. He believes that, as people encounter God and grow as disciples through community, they can be mobilized to impact the world for the glory of God.

In 1999, Jimmy and a small group of like-hearted people founded Antioch Community Church with a focus on small groups and missions. This church, which began in a renovated grocery store in a high-crime, inner-city neighborhood of Waco, has since grown to more than 3,000 attendees weekly and has been a transforming agent in the neighborhood through relationships, prayer and a number of community outreach ministries. AMI, the church’s non-profit missions agency, now has more than 44 church plants and works in 23 countries, with new church plants being regularly sent out.

Jimmy and his wife, Laura, live in Waco, Texas, with their four children: Abby, Lauren, Caleb and Daniel.

Jimmy is the author of The Church Can Change the World and co-author with Larry Kreider of The 3 Loves.
Southlands (Alan Frow)

Alan Frow is the lead pastor of Southlands Church in North Orange County. Southlands has a rich culture of writing and singing original worship songs, having produced three worship albums, the most recent being 2012’s offering, “Overthrowing King.” As a worshiping community, they also love rediscovering and reworking old hymns, giving a fresh musical voice to the theology and poetry of the ancients. Their passion is connecting rich theology with a deep expectancy that God wants meet with His people as they respond to Him.

Besides pastoring a church for the past 15 years, Alan has travelled extensively leading worship and teaching on worship. He has recorded numerous live and studio albums, and written the book, “Worshipers Wanted - Inspiring and Equipping the Worshiping Church.” Alan and the Southlands band have loved leading worship at Missions Conference for the last few years and can’t wait to do it again in 2013.

Jon Thurlow

Jon began leading worship as a teenager. At age 17, the Lord stirred in him a desire to use music to draw people’s hearts into the Lord’s presence. Jon believes that the essential purpose of music should be to move our hearts closer to the Lord and to magnify His awesome name, giving Him the praise and glory He rightly deserves. Jon is passionate about creating music that will be an onramp for people to connect with the heart of Jesus.

He and his wife, Kinsey, live in Kansas City, Missouri, where they both serve on staff at the International House of Prayer of Kansas City (IHOPKC), an evangelical missions organization that is committed to praying for the release of the fullness of God’s power and purpose in the earth.
Jesus
for wanting us so much that He died for us.

President Corey (DBC)
for your support, enthusiasm and wisdom.

Tom Sappington – SMU Advisor for giving your time and believing in the vision.

Stephen Croft & SMU
for a strong vision, for constantly pointing us to Jesus, for your prayerful hearts and for supporting us when we were weak.

Speakers
for following the Holy Spirit and for showing us what it means to be jealous for God’s glory.
Faculty & Staff
for pouring the wisdom and love of God into us, listening to us and sharing your time with us.

Our Amazing Coordinators
for starting and ending strong, for moving us to believe God can do greater things than we once thought and for doing all to God’s glory with huge smiles on your faces.

The MC Staff
All 85 of them — for your dedication to Jesus, your encouragement, your hard work and the undocumented hours you have spent serving Him through this conference when no one was watching.

Our Hundreds of Volunteers for giving your time and strength to be the hands and feet of this conference.

The SMU MarCom Department for designing this year’s Missions Conference promotional materials and walking alongside us with so much passion, laughter and encouragement.

Facilities Management
Joe Grossman, Andrew Foster, Anthony Melendrez, Cody Cain & Jerri Adams for meeting with us and serving our campus so faithfully as unto God.

The Events & Facilities Services Crews for making everything work and for your artistic touch and technical know-how.

Steve Rall & Bon Appetit
for catering and helping with Ethnic Lunch and missionary meals.

Jonathan Wyatt
for your humility, your servant’s heart and your patience in giving every student and volunteer conference credit.

Alan Frow & Southlands Worship for being so faithful to love our student body over the years and for ushering us into a place of worship with grace and truth.

Jon Thurlow
for your faithful service to God and for your sensitivity to the Holy Spirit as you use your gifts for His Kingdom.
MC Alumni—David Paltza & Suzie Inglis for the stories, advice and encouragement.

Rebekah Pearce, Kyle Donn & Malia Flores-Lacangan for encouraging us and exhorting us to listen to God’s voice and will for Outpour 2013.

The Tyndall, Sardar & Davis Families for constantly supporting us and for teaching us how to love God.

Carol Davis
for loving and supporting us with endless wisdom, prayers and advice. We could not have done this conference without your reputation and support!

Finally, those who have been in prayer for this conference and for those who started praying for MC 2012 over 2 years ago — thank you.
The Student Missionary Union (SMU) is the largest student-led missions organization in the United States. Our 26 staff members and hundreds of volunteers are committed to joining with God in the gathering of His beloved by the power of the cross of Christ, that He may be worshiped by every tribe, tongue and nation.

We labor to mobilize students to catch a vision of God’s desire for our world and passionately pursue their role in the incredible, real-life story that God began with Abraham and will end with the Messiah’s second coming.

We realize that each player’s role in the completion of our Savior’s commission looks as different as every student involved. Through our prayer ministry, short-term missions and the annual Missions Conference, SMU desires to see each student walking in the fullness of the diverse ways God has created us to worship and serve Him.
Days & Weeks of Prayer
Throughout the year, SMU hosts Days and Weeks of Prayer. These are campus-wide events devoted to communicating with God and hearing His voice.

Ministry Development
SMU helps finance and support students to start new ministries on campus.

Missions Conference
Every spring, SMU holds a three day conference to challenge the student body to prayerfully respond to God’s call to make disciples of all nations.

Short-Term Missions
SMU trains student teams during the semester and sends them overseas during summer and interterm breaks.

Interested in being on SMU Staff?
The Board of Directors job descriptions and applications are available online and due in the office by 12:00 p.m. on March 18, 2013.

WE ARE a group of students who work to MOTIVATE and MOBILIZE you to align your life to the completion of the Great Commission.

Jesus told us to go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit.

We want to help you FULFILL what Jesus started, sharing the new life God gave you and helping the people you share with to begin a new life marked by God’s name.
